It was such a pleasure to see so many present for this year's Organist Clergy Dinner. Thank you for your support of the RCCO.

Our Chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Mervin Saunders spoke of his experience in ministry and the importance of music in his life. As we have come to expect, it was both an informative and humorous presentation. Special thanks to Suzanne Marjerrison for her meticulous attention to the many details in organizing this successful evening.

There is another opportunity to gather socially on this Saturday, May 5th thanks to the hospitality of archivist extraordinaire, Bill Vineer, who has made a hobby of collecting all manner of material related to the organ: books, magazines, pamphlets, CDs and much more. The Vineer Organ Library is well worth a visit, and this is a special opportunity to browse his extensive collection while socializing. For details and directions, see the article on page 2 in this issue of Pipelines.

The Executive agreed last year to host a National Convention in Ottawa during the week of August 11-15, 2013. Our Convention Committee was formed last June and has just held its sixth meeting. The committee is chaired by Karen Holmes and the membership is composed of volunteers from the general membership as well as many of the executive. Thank you to all who have offered generously of their time. Volunteers are still needed for a great many tasks. If you can offer some time, please contact Karen Holmes or myself. Consult the website for details as well as an update on page 5 in this issue of Pipelines.

We still have lots more activities in the 2011-2012 season before we break for the summer: the final Pro Organo Concert is on May 14th and is preceded by a workshop on May 12th, all presented by Valerie Hall. See the articles on pages 2 and 3 for the details. We will close off the season with our Annual General Meeting on June 4th where we will honour Ross Jewell, our Member of the Year. See page 4 for details.

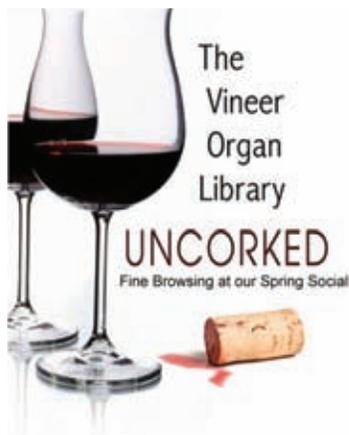

There's still lots to come in May and June, and we are already at work to provide another engaging season beginning in September. We look forward to seeing you at these events.

Members' Spring Social

Bill Vineer, our highly esteemed curator of the Vineer Organ Library, has kindly offered his home and library as the venue for our Spring Social in May.

Everyone, especially new members and friends, is invited to join us at the Vineer Organ Library on Saturday, May 5th, 2012, at 4:00 pm, for an evening of fine dining, great friends and fascinating finds in the library's vast collection of all things organ.

Those attending are asked to bring either a salad or dessert plus something to drink. The Centre will provide the barbeque meats and tea / coffee.

And do plan to spend some time to browse through the library's extensive collections. There is something for everyone here.

Bill's Address is 89 Canter Boulevard, Nepean, which is off Meadowlands Drive between Merivale Rd and Woodroffe Avenue. From Meadowlands, turn north on Indian Road, proceed to the third intersection and turn right on Canter Blvd.

We look forward to seeing you there!

Member of the Year

DON MARJERRISON

Ross Jewell

We are extremely fortunate to have very talented and dedicated individuals in the Ottawa Centre who have contributed greatly to the work of the College over the years and particularly to this Centre. One individual who has been “instrumental” in this pursuit has been Ross Jewell. Although very busy over the years with his work and singing, Ross found time to devote to the RCCO nationally and to the Ottawa Centre. In his own words, Ross gives his account of how he became involved in the RCCO:

In 1976, Lorne Swan, a friend from University, was the treasurer of the Ottawa Centre. When he moved to Toronto, he asked me if I would like to take on the job. At that time I said no, but he then had the Centre President call me to ask me to be treasurer. I was rather surprised when I got a call from Gerald Bales asking me to be treasurer. Even though I am not an organist, I have always been passionate about organ music and many of my friends were organists, so I agreed. After a few years, I left the position to become Advertising coordinator and also treasurer of the 1983 Convention. After the Convention I became treasurer again.

In 2003, Frances, myself and Chris Dawes (National Communications Director) were having lunch and talking about RCCO and communications. At one point in the conversation, I mentioned that the RCCO should set up a web page to communicate to our members and the wider public. We chatted about that for a few minutes then went on to other topics. I was surprised a few weeks later to get an e-mail from Chris asking how the web design was coming! I then realized that with any volunteer organization, if you make a suggestion, you had better be prepared to act on it, so I set up the national website and our own Centre website.

Ross has been active in various choirs. He sang at Christ Church Cathedral for 30 years and is now completing 36 years with Cantata Singers. In 1973/4, he built a Zuckermann Harpsichord which has given him many years of enjoyment. In 2001, Ross received the Distinguished Service Award at the Convocation of the RCCO National Convention in Toronto. Ross not only looks after the general account as well the Pro Organo and several scholarship accounts, he has to file reports to Revenue Canada to maintain our charitable status. Ross is spending many hours this year setting up the Orgelfest 2013 Convention website with on-line capability to buy tickets and to donate to the Convention. It is with much pleasure and gratitude, that the Ottawa Centre recognizes Ross for his past and continuing dedication to the College and this Centre.

Saint John Organ Festival 2012

The Saint John Centre of the RCCO has been active since the early 1950's and can boast that we currently have the grandson of one of the founding members of this Center!

Our plans are well underway to host the 2012 Convention. The dates for this convention are July 15, 16, and 17, 2012, and the theme is “Changing Times... and Tides”. As surely as service music and styles are changing in the church, so do the tides of our own Bay of Fundy – home of the highest tides in the world! Scheduled recitals include John Hudson at St. Peter’s Church, Dr. Sharon Pond at St. Peter’s Church, a Choral Recital by Polyphon, directed by David Mitchell, at St. Peter’s Church, Richard Kidd on the Letourneau Organ at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Rothesay, and Dr. Gayle H. Martin on the Carl Wilhelm Organ at St. Paul’s Anglican Church, Rothesay,

Online registration is now open at www.rcco.ca/conventions-2012.cfm, or you can download a registration form at <http://rccosaintjohn.files.wordpress.com/2012/02/rccoregistrationformfillableweb2.pdf>

Orgelfest Update

Have you made your summer holiday plans yet? While you’re planning trips for this summer, be sure to reserve the week of August 11 to 16 NEXT summer for Orgelfest 2013, the RCCO national Convention taking place here in Ottawa.

The committee is hard at work planning interesting concerts, workshops and outings, and we count on your support. We hope many will help with ushering, crowd directing, giving out registration packages, etc., but even if you can’t help, we hope that you will attend. We promise it will be worthwhile! More details will be available soon. In the June newsletter look for the article about the “Orgelfest Academy”, a programme planned especially for younger delegates.

Angela Hewitt Comes to Ottawa

FRANCES MACDONNELL

As you know, Ottawa's internationally-famous concert pianist, Angela Hewitt, is to be the headline artist at our National Convention in August 2013. We therefore want to let you know about a unique event that Angela will be presenting at the National Arts Centre in Ottawa on Sunday, May 20th, 2012, as a fundraiser for her annual Trasimeno Music Festival in Italy.

As part of what Mayor Jim Watson has declared "Angela Hewitt Week in Ottawa" - May 13 - 20, 2012 - (Angela is also playing with Chamber Players of Canada on May 18) - there will be a combination event at the NAC on Sunday, May 20th. At 3:00 pm, courtesy of the CBC, we will show the film of the telecast of the Finals of the 1985 International Bach Piano Competition in which Angela took First Prize. This historic film, which lasts one hour, is introduced by conductor Sir Andrew Davis, and follows the four finalists (two Russians and one German besides Angela) in their solo and orchestral performances. The film will be shown in the Studio of the NAC, accompanied by a special exhibit showing the evening gown that Angela wore that night in 1985. Angela will then perform for us briefly on the piano. This part of the event will be open to the general public by donation at the door.

Immediately following, in the NAC Salon, there will be a private VIP reception with refreshments, where there will be an unprecedented display of about twenty of Angela's concert gowns. The reception will last from 4.30 until 7 p.m. Hyperion Records has agreed to a special early release, for Canada only, of Angela's new recording - music by Schumann performed by Angela and the Deutsches Symphonie-Orchester Berlin under conductor Hannu Lintu. Angela will be glad to sign copies of the new CD at the reception. Admission to this unique reception in the Salon is $100 per person, for which a tax receipt of $65 will be issued.

Space is limited at this reception in the Salon. If you are interested in attending the Salon reception, please contact Frances Macdonnell at fbmacdonnell@sympatico.ca or at 613-726-7984.

Mark Thallander Foundation Choral Festival

Many members of our Ottawa Centre have met California organist Mark Thallander who spoke at our Ottawa Convention in 2003 on "What's in Your Blender?"

Mark's personal story in recent years is an amazing one. Recovering from a horrific vehicle rollover accident in 2003 that claimed his left arm, he continues to play the organ with great skill and enthusiasm.

At the time of Mark's accident a not-for-profit foundation was established by his many friends to honour him through the promotion of church choral music. Since 2005 the Mark Thallander Foundation has sponsored over twenty events bringing choirs from various churches together for festivals of worship. The number of singers has ranged from over 1000 (at several of the annual festivals in the Cathedral of Our Lady of the Angels in Los Angeles) down to more modest gatherings of 50 to 60 singers in

New England towns where individual church choirs often struggle to gather even a handful of singers. A feature of each festival has been the presence of a leading American choral conductor to prepare the choir members for an exciting evening of praise. Further details about the Foundation, its festivals and recordings can be found at www.markthallanderfoundation.org.

On Sunday evening, June 3rd, at 7:00 p.m., the Foundation will be holding its first Canadian festival at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church,

Ottawa. Mark, a good friend of St. Paul's organist Ross Dixon, has been coming to Ottawa frequently for over the past ten years to play the organ for special services at St. Paul's. The June festival, entitled "One Lord, One Faith, One Hope", is expected to include over 70 singers from four local church choirs: Barrhaven United, Know Presbyterian (Manotick), First United (Westboro), and St. Paul's Presbyterian. Instrumental accompaniment for the evening will include organ, piano, trumpet, strings and percussion. (See Around Town on page 3).

The festival's guest conductor will be Rev. Thomas Matrone, Minister of Music at Central Assembly of God in Springfield, Missouri. Pastor Matrone leads a thriving ministry of music at Central Assembly where three worship celebrations are held each Sunday in a spacious, 2,500-seat sanctuary.
