We have just held our thirteenth planning meeting with at least another five planned. This seems like a good opportunity to highlight the significant work that is being done. You may be interested to know that there are 17 members heading committees. First, the members of the Organizing Committee:

Chair	Karen Holmes
Co-Chair	Moira Hayes
Programme	Gilles Leclerc
Treasurer	Donald Marjerrison
Secretary	Frances Macdonnell
Accommodation	David Huddleston
Advertising	Robert Jones
Competition Liaison	Frances Macdonnell
Exhibits	Robert Jones
Programme Editors	Suzanne & Rick St. Germain
Publicity	Heather Rice
Registrar	Sally Duke
Social	Suzanne Marjerrison
Ticket Sales	Frances Macdonnell
Translation	Rachel Laurin
Transportation	Shawn Potter
Venue	Moira Hayes
Volunteers	Mai-yu Chan
Webmaster	Ross Jewell
Workshops	Donald Russell

Let me comment on four of these committee members. Our meetings have been ably led by Karen Holmes as Convention Chair. Her oversight of the many committees, her vast experience and great patience have been of great benefit to the Committee.

Gilles Leclerc as Programme Convenor exchanged places with Karen who was Programme Convenor for the very successful 2003 Convention. He too brings great experience to this task. It's the programme that has to be attractive to a wide variety of interests. In addition to the workshops and the National Organ Playing Competition, there will be five public concerts featuring area and national musicians: The Ottawa Bach Choir conducted by Lizette Canton, organists Thomas Annand, Rachel Laurin, Christian Lane, and pianist Angela Hewitt.

Ross Jewell is our website designer. At user-friendly www.orgelfest2013.ca, you will find a complete listing of details regarding the Convention: programme, workshops, competitions, artists, venues and registration information. The main website www.rcco-ottawa.ca contains information about many aspects of the Ottawa Centre's life.

Rick and Suzanne St. Germain are the editors for the programme book which will guide the registrants through the days of the Convention and serve as a memorable souvenir. The design of tickets and advertising for relevant organ publications has been included in their work.

As President of the Ottawa Centre, I want to express on your behalf our grateful appreciation and hearty thanks for the dedication of so many members giving leadership in this Convention, and to say that we as a Centre are most blessed in the great talents that have been freely offered to make this an outstanding gathering in August. I urge the membership to show their support by volunteering where needed, and registering for this exciting Convention.

You can pay by cheque or by credit card. While on the website, you can find information about the hymn-writing contest, part of the Convention plans. Deadline for submissions is May 31st.

Concerts at the Festival will be held in St. Matthew's Anglican Church, Église Saint-François-d'Assise, St. Barnabas Anglican Church, Notre-Dame Cathedral-Basilica, the Bruyère Convent Chapel and Dominion-Chalmers United Church. The national organ-playing competition finals will be held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Dates for Orgelfest 2013 are August 11 to 15, with the pre-convention competition semi-finals on the 10th, and a post-convention organ crawl to Montreal on the 16th. Mark those dates on your new calendar, too!

Pro Organo

We have a long break between the fall and spring concerts this year, but now that you have your 2013 calendar, be sure to mark the remaining two dates:

Friday, April 12th, at 7:30 p.m. Wesley Warren will play at St. Barnabas Anglican Church. (The snow may be gone!)

Friday, May 10th, at 7:30 p.m., Quebec City organist Danny Belisle will play at Knox Presbyterian Church. (The tulips will be blooming!!)

Student Recital

JENNIFER LOVELESS

This is to inform you that the RCCO Student Recital will take place on SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 23RD at 7:30 p.m. at St. Peter's Lutheran Church (400 Sparks Street Ottawa). Students of any age of any current member of the RCCO are eligible to play in this recital.

The purpose of this recital is to give students some valuable playing experience, so even beginning students should be encouraged to play. The amount of playing time available to students will depend on how many students participate. If someone would like to play a hymn that the audience can sing during the recital, they are encouraged to do so.

This tracker organ was built by Casavant in 1977 and has 2 manuals and 19 ranks. The organ specs can be found at: http://www.rcco-ottawa.ca/orgelfest2013/specs_stpeter.html

Hosting a Competition Candidate?

FRANCES MACDONNELL

The RCCO's National Organ-Playing Competition will take place during our upcoming National Convention, Orgelfest 2013, as it does at each Major Convention. Although the six semi-finalists are not yet determined, there will undoubtedly be several of them coming from across Canada to try to win the various Prizes (including the Godfrey Hewitt Grand Prize of $5,000). These candidates are generally at the graduate-student level, aged in their twenties.

To save hotel costs, it is usual for National Conventions to try to obtain billets for the candidates. This will generally mean providing a private bedroom with breakfast for several nights, and perhaps a drive each morning to the church where they will be practising. The candidates will be very happy to have a friendly and relaxing home to return to at the end of their stressful days!

The approximate days will begin about Thursday August 8. Those candidates who do not move on from the Semi-Finals (on August 10) to the Finals (on August 13) may decide to leave following the Semi-Finals, thereby shortening their stay.

Orgelfest 2013 will be providing each of the candidates with a free registration for the Convention, but billet accommodation would be greatly appreciated! If any of our members or friends can help with this project, please contact Frances Macdonnell at 613-726-7984 or fbmacdonnell@sympatico.ca

Thank you very much indeed for your help!

In the January issue of Pipelines, the article A Double Honour incorrectly listed Mai-Yu Chan's email address. Her correct email address is:

fosterg@rogers.com

(note trailing "g" before the "@" sign).

As mentioned in that article, Mai-Yu is our eminent Volunteer Coordinator for Orgelfest 2013 who leads us by her example. Professional Support – Who Needs it? Why Bother?

REV. DR. DAN HANSEN

The position of professional support in the Ottawa Centre of the RCCO, as it is now being practiced, is an opportunity to talk with someone about your music position. It is a time to explore your options as a worship music leader.

It is not counselling or therapy, or unionized, legal advice, or even mediation; it is a simple but powerful opportunity to take a look at what the possibilities are for you in terms of your music leadership in your congregation.

In the past, it may have been understood as having to do mostly with problems, including contract negotiations, or challenging situations regarding one's role and function—position descriptions, often leading to termination or resignation.

But, now, it is viewed as a learning opportunity, an aspect of the life of the Ottawa Centre life that aims to help expand your sense of music leadership, and thus that of your faith community.

It is a way of empowering you, in order that you might offer stronger worship music leadership where you serve, including growing yourself. It focuses on you, and your potential.

So, why wait until problems arise? Why wait until it is too late, and your situation has deteriorated? And why carry needlessly any burdens about your position and the congregation you serve?

Be intentional about how you work and minister, being more self-reflective and growth-oriented, and explore the options available.

Give your centre professional support person a call, and talk confidentially about your position—what is going on for you, the joys and challenges of your situation, and how new life might take place, both for you and your church
